

The international offer

This first International offer is endorsed by those individuals identifying themselves as active members by their signatures and comment (below) of what they had done actually for the ACILR (CDRIL) project. They have also accepted a seat on the organizational development committee, which will formulate the national formation of this international association in United States of America.

This list will be completed after we will receive the formula from the different states and countries.

The International Offer

This national and international offer is currently available to those individuals who wish to become an active member in the development of the structure of either the national and/or international association to restore the rights of the patent(s), copyright(s), and financing of the international organization ACILR (CDRIL) therein restoring and promoting the project ACILR (CDRIL).

This new association will supervise the development, the elaboration of a legal national and international structure to meet the conditions of the project CDRIL mandate of 1980 and the author's letter donating the rights to this concept and it's assets by the designer of the no-profit organization and the corporative company ACILR (CDRIL). See CONCEPTOR MESSAGE OF ACILR in POLITICAL // RELATIONS

Conceptor message

The non-profit association by it's mandate, will be created and will make possible the first legal request for all the international rights associated with the donation of the concept and it's inherent assets.

The mandate has three components:

1. - To create an organization which will support and protect the rights of those who develop new concept.
2. - To create another method to internationally finance projects on a local, nation, and global basis. This organization hopes to direct funding for intra and extra stellar research by its unique form of recompense and into strategic alliances to bring about positive change in an increasingly complex global environment. Organizations, associations, governments, for-profit's, not-for-profit's and individuals participating will have access to the new forum, it's funding, and it's achievers.
3. - To create an international research center to develop new talents, products, and processes which enable intellectual capital and its solutions to the world's challenges while enchasing civil and human rights.

All individuals willing to accept the challenges are invited to fill out the attached form, state their interest and how they may assist. Assistance can consist of anything from writing letters and e-mail up to initiating new projects and the attendant financing.

Representatives of corporations, public and private; and associations, public and private; and governments, local, national or global are welcome to participate in this endeavor.
